A. Changes as specified below will exempt passengers from reissue fees and any differences in fare, taxes, fuel/insurance surcharges, and booking service charges for one transaction:

(A) Date Change: rebook with the same routing and the same booking class code (RBD).

(B) Itineraries with connecting interline segments: Changing the interline carrier or transfer point is allowed, provided that the most significant sector remains on EVA/UNI Air flights and is operated by EVA/UNI Air. Example: PHX-AS-SFO-TPE-BKK (MLXUZ) may reroute into PHX-UA-LAX-TPE BKK (MLXUZ). BR sector remains on M/CLS, and the UA sector should book on the applicable RBD of MLXUZ.

(C) Re-ticketing: Carry forward the fare/fare basis/fare calculation/baggage allowance /TFC...etc. to the new ticket and add SKCHG DUE TO (flight number)/DDMMM CANX or CHNG in the ENBOX to reflect the reissue is the result of planned schedule change.

B. Premium Economy class passengers who are unable to rebook in the original booking class code due to an aircraft issue should rebook in the corresponding Economy class booking class code aligned with the highest RBD within the same fare product (i.e., K→Y, L/T→M, P→S), or in Business class. They will be exempt from the reissue fee and any differences in fuel/insurance surcharges and booking service charges for one transaction. However, the fare difference will be reassessed based on the original ticketed date and refunded (Economy class) or paid by the passenger (Business class).

Example: TPE-x/PAR-FRA T/CLS, changed into TPE x/VIE-FRA due to TPE-PAR cancellation, and no PE service for TPE-VIE, assess the difference of TPE x/PAR-FRA between T and M/CLS of original ticketed date.

Re-ticketing: Reissue the ticket into TPE x/VIE-FRA M/CLS with EMD-RSVR and refund accordingly. Use the fare/fare basis and fare calculation of TPE-x/PAR-FRA in EY fare and add SKCHG DUE TO (flight number)/DDMMM CANX .VIE NO PE SVC in the ENBOX to reflect the reissue is the result of planned schedule change plus no Premium Economy class service.

(2) If a canceled flight is resumed, passengers who changed their flights may opt to revert to their original flight/date with the same RBD without incurring additional charges. Passengers who were moved to Economy class due to aircraft issues and wish to return to Premium Economy class may do so by paying the fare/tax difference, along with the difference in fuel/insurance surcharges and booking service charges, without a reissue fee. Changed business class passengers may follow the same procedure to revert to Premium Economy Class.

(3) EVA/UNI Air operated flights cannot be changed to other carriers' flights or codeshare flights, unless otherwise specified in the relevant fare rules.

(4) Within the ticket validity period, if passengers change their new travel date beyond the 14-day range or outside the scope of conditions (1)-(3) mentioned above, it will be considered a voluntary change. In this case, the ticket should be recalculated and reissued to collect any difference in fare and TFC. However, the reissue fee will be waived for one transaction. Please add “REISU DUE TO (flight number)/DDMMM CANX or CHNG” in the ENBOX to denote the reason for the reissue fee waiver.

(5) Subsequent change request after acknowledgement/changes made via the Self Reaccommodation Tool:

A. Changes to unaffected segment(s) only: Due to system limitations, the Self Reaccommodation Tool allows changes only to affected segments. If a passenger wishes to change an unaffected segment as a result, please assist if the PNR contains SR OTHS CHG BY BR SREAC ANY FURTHER ACTION CONSIDER VOLUNTARY. One-time rebooking is allowed in the same RBD, with the same origin/destination, within ticket validity, without ADC. However, if the same RBD is no longer available or if the routing has changed, recalculate the fare and collect the difference of fares, TFC, YQ and booking service charge, if any. The reissue fee may be waived once. Re-ticketing: Add “SREAC CHNG UNAFF BOUND in the ENBOX when reissuing.

B. Changes involve segments already acknowledged or modified via the Self Reaccommodation Tool: 2 Acknowledgments or changes made through Self Reaccommodation Tool count as one-time changes, if the passenger wishes to modify the acknowledged/changed segment again, it will be treated as a voluntary change, the ticket should be repriced/reissue and collect the difference of fare/TFC/Fuel surcharge/Booking Service Charge as well as the change fee, if any.

3. Refunds

Refunds for eligible tickets and related ancillary services may be granted in accordance with the provisions for involuntary refunds, without imposing a refund service charge. Additionally, the booking service charge (YR) may be refunded as well.

(1) Totally unused: full refund of the NET fare and TFC reported.

(2) Partially used: refund the Net fare and TFC of the unused sector(s), e.g. 1/2 RT Q fare + 1/2 RT W fare, if outbound has been used, refund the 1/2 RT W net fare reported and the unused TFC.
